When Queen Victoria is reminded of the potentate of Persia's approach she always exclaims, "O Shah!"

It is said that Gov. Foraker, of Ohio, is not anxious to undergo the strain incident to a struggle for a third term, but he realizes that his political future depends upon his retaining his present office. He is very jealous of the growing strength of McKinley and is determined to keep himself prominent if possible.

Mr. and Mrs. Grover Cleveland will soon visit W. U. Hensel at Lancaster, Pa. Soon after his election to the Presidency Mr. Cleveland met Mr. Hensel and took a great fancy to him. He offered him various offices, all of which Hensel refused. His independence pleased the President and he kept up his close relations with the Pennsylvanian throughout his term of office.

Will during the next four days, close out the remainder of their syndicate stocks of Men's Clothing, consisting of 180 cases, without reserve. The syndicate of wholesale clothiers representing these goods are pleased with realizing cash on the $1,000,000 stocks consigned to us. and let them go without considering values. That not a vestige of this stock may remain, we throw off all marks and allow the customers to choose from the display of stylish new goods served on the counters for FIFTEEN DOLLARS. Our necessity and theirs is your opportunity. Store open until 9 P. M. daily. The Suits and Overcoats included in our stocks are thirty, forty and fifty dollar garments. They all go for Fifteen Dollars.

ONLY, FROM A. M. UNTIL P. M. DAYS 9 FOR FOUR

NEVER

Before in the history of our house, not even in "odd lots" and "broken sizes," have we offered fine cloth-ing for so little money as we do for the four days beginning to-day. If you buy the same qualities out-side our house you pay from 25 to 50 per cent. more than we ask you for them.

The syndicate stock we are handling is one of the largest ever consigned to one clothing house. But in undertaking the sale we knew we could accomplish it, for we could cut about 60 per cent. under the real prices.

We delight in sticking the knife in values. It brings us advertisement, benefits the public and makes our trade as merry as a marriage-bell.

If you are incredulous call and see for yourself, and we will convince you, whether you buy or not. But you will buy. You cannot resist these bargains, which we guarantee to be as advertised.
